

Applying concepts

Using the web browser, the user, through a HTTP connection will connect to the sever side of the application. Through the user interface the user can filter the data, in which will filter all the results shown. The information that are given to the user are gathered from OpenStreetMap.

