

Implementation of the concept

The user will send a request to find the closest barbershop. The GET request will be sent to the controller where it will be approved and it will send the designated template with a map that will show all the barbershops to the user.

The implementation of this architecture can be shown through this sequential diagram:

